

Success Story

We noticed something was just not quiet right about Jennifer. She's very bright, easy going and very observant but when it came to reading and writing, she acted like a totally different child. While going over her vocabulary words we noticed how tired she seemed. My mother-in-law told us about vision therapy and that she thought Jenni could benefit from this therapy.

We brought Jenni in for an evaluation right before Christmas and she started the year off in vision therapy twice a week.

At first, we couldn't tell any difference; only she seemed to get car sick often. Then, after about 6 weeks of therapy, I was reading with her and we read more that one night than we had been able to the entire time she's been in kindergarten and first grade combined. I also noticed she could do more physical things that she hadn't been able to do before like; dribble a basketball, ride her bicycle without her training wheels, draw and write more graphically and use more detail.

This year she has made 100's on all of her vocabulary and spelling tests. I know that without the help of Vision Development Specialists of North Alabama, Jennifer would not be the happy, well adjusted child she is today. Thank you Drs. Philip & Shannon & Mrs. Rita

Sincerely,
Jimmy.
